ATTACKED BY TWO MEN

Miss Julia May Garrett, eighteen years old, who lives at Seminary Station, Fairfax county, with her mother, Mrs. Charles Frinks and her stepfather, Charles Frinks, was at 5.35 o'clock yesterday afternoon attacked by two men while walking along the railroad track about half a mile from her home, and choked and had her clothes torn. The young woman put up a plucky fight and fought off both men.

The cries of the young woman attracted the attention of Walter Cockrell and Morgan Moltz, both of whom live in that neighborhood. They assisted her to the residence of C. B. Cockrell and afterward she was placed in an automobile and taken to her home in a highly nervous state. Despite the fact that she was attacked by the two men and had her lip cut as a result of a blow struck by the soldier and her side bruised she was able to be out today.

Miss Garrett is employed in the general offices of the Southern Railway Company in Washington. She worked yesterday and boarded an R. F. and P. train in Washington yesterday afternoon for her home at Seminary Hill.

The train, however, made no stop at that place and she detrained at a point half a mile west of Seminary Station.

Miss Garrett decided to walk home and proceeded along the path between the railroad tracks. She had gone probably a square when she was accosted by a soldier who volunteered to accompany her home, after having inquired of her where she was going. Miss Garrett declined the invitation that he accompany her.

The soldier then grabbed her and pulled her down an embankment beside the railroad track about twenty-five feet high. A scuffle ensued and she cried as loud as she could. The soldier, however, choked her. Her cries, however, frightened him and he released his hold on the young woman and left the scene.

Miss Garrett then climbd up the embankment whereupon a civilian accosted her and asked if he could be of any assistance. She declined his proffer when Miss Garrett claimed he pulled her down the embankment and attacked her. She again screamed and fought off her assailant and the man ran away, going down the railroad track.

A few minutes afterward she was met by Messrs. Cockrell and Moltz and conveyed to Mr. Cockrell's home.

Search for Assailant.

The police of this city were at once notified and the local police, the authorities of Fairfax county and the military police started out to search for the men. Police Chief C. T. Goods and Sergt. W. J. Wilkinson went to the railroad yards but failed to find any trace of the men and Policeman Magner went out on a train as far as Burkes and also visited Springfield but found no trace of the men and returned to Alexandria at midnight.

According to Miss Garrett the civilian appeared like a tramp, his clothes being dirty and greasy. It is supposed that he boarded an outgoing freight train following the attack. She did not, however, see any trace of the civilian when she detrained and the first person she saw was the soldier. Miss Garrett is of the opinion she would be able to identify both of her assailants.

DEATH OF JOHN C. HUNTER

John C. Hunter, sixty-seven, died at 1.15 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. T. M. Cragg, 527 North Columbus street. Death was due to pneumonia, with which he had been ill for the past two weeks. Mr. Hunter, who was a farmer, was a native of Fairfax county.

He is survived by his widow and three children, Mrs. T. M. Cragg, this city; Mrs. J. N. Peed, of Washington and Albert B. Hunter Washington.

His funeral took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon Rev. Dr. E. V. Regester, pastor of the M. E. Church South officiating. Burial was in the Presbyterian cemetery.

SENATOR THOS. S. MARTIN

John Temple Graves Pays Him Merited Tribute in Hearst's Magazine For February

"When in December, 1893, Thomas Stapleton Martin defeated Fitzhugh Lee for United States Senator from Virginia, it creaed a sensation throughout the country Fitzhugh Lee represented all that was best in blood, sentiment and tradition in the old commonwealth. The last prominent scion of the old Washington-Lee Custis strain, with the generals, stars of the Confederate Army, crowning his own graces, gifts and gallantries in field, forum and salon, he was the representative cavalier of the old South. His prestige was great, his popularity was overwhelming. 'Tom' Martin had never held an office or been a candidate for office. But the Virginia legislature landed him an easy winner for the senatorial toga and his accession marked the rise of the practical, definite man of affairs in the politics and business of Virginia and the South.

"For twenty-two years Senator Martin has been the recognized and invincible leader of the Virginia democracy. In his successive candidacies for re-election he has been practically unopposed. It has come to be a tradition that nobody can beat Tom Martin in Virginia, and nobody seems to try.

"A simple mannered, modest, clear headed man, definite of purpose, direct in speech, of indefatigable industry and aggressive courage, he is power in the august forum of the Senate as he is in his own State. He has been for two years the official leader of the democratic majority in the Senate, and his leadership has not been questioned nor criticised. He speaks seldom and always briefly, but when he does speak his words ring clear, rapid, cogent and convincing. Senate and galleries always hear him gladly, and his part is almost invariably with him.

"There is probably no more effective Senator in the Upper Chamber than the Chairman of the Appropriations and Commerce Committees who represents Virginia as its senior Senator."

DIED

GRIMES—On Sunday, February 2, 1919, at 11:30 A. M., at Georgetown University Hospital, ROBERT GRIMES, 37 years old. Funeral at 2 P. M., Tuesday, from Wheatley's mortuary chapel. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

INGOMAR—PEARL WHITE

At the Ingomar Theatre tonigh Pearl White will be seen in Chapter 3 of the great serial "The Lightning Raider." Chas. Ray will be the attraction in "The Law of the North."

"A Romance of Happy Valley."

In "A Romance of Happy Valley" at the Richmond tonight, D. W. Griffith weaves with the warp and woof of plain people in the Southland—"just folks" who love and trust and hope and wait—and smile and droop exult and despair.

Life! Tragic and vivid. A drama that moves on unerringly to a gripping end.

"A Romance of Happy Valley" has nothing to do with war; it's not a great spectacle of bewildering effects but a homely tale of homely people portrayed with the realism and power that have made David Wark Griffith master of the silent drama.

POPE COMBATS BOLSHEVISM

Rome, Feb. 3.—The Pope has instructed Polish, Ruthenian and Hungarian bishops to d otheir utmost for the universal struggle against Bolshevism.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Three White Men Charged With Violating Prohibition Law—Seventy-Five Quarts Found in Garage—Boy Served With Whisky and Eggnog.

Three white men were before the Police Court this morning to answer the charge of violating the prohibition law.

Prohibition Inspector Payne and officers of the city police department on Saturday night procured a search warrant and invaded a King street pool room, where they found a number of empty whisky bottles and where several young men were standing around all more or less under the influence of liquor. As no evidence could be adduced to show that liquor was sold in the place, they proceeded to a garage owned by the proprietor of the place, where they found seventy-five quarts of whisky. The owner of the garage was arrested and upon reaching the station house he left $500 collateral for his appearance before the Police Court this morning. He was accompanied by counsel when he faced the bar, and after the evidence of the prohibition inspector had been taken the accused was bailed in the sum of $500 for his appearance before the grand jury.

Two white men, who lodge in the old City Hotel building, were next brought in. They were charged with furnishing whisky and eggnog to a twelve year old boy, who became so drunk that it was necessary to bring him bodily to the station house. The men who furnished the liquor were held for the action of the grand jury.

Several minor cases were disposed of this morning.

MURDEROUS AFFRAY

Residents of Loudoun County Engage in Bloody Combat on Monday

Lucien J. Kephart, a merchant of Mt. Gilead, is suffering from a fractured skull, ugly cuts about the body and a slight gunshot wound of his hand, while Joseph Kern, a farmer of that community is in Loudoun Hospital with a bullet through his left lung, as the result of a fight between the two men one night last week, in which a club, a pocket knife, a 32-calibre revolver and a shot gun figured prominently.

It seems that a feud has existed between the two men for some time, as a result of which Kerns was, we are told, under a peace bond. Kerns owns and resides upon the Slack property at Mt. Gilead, and is also care-taker of the Coe Mill property through which Beaverdam creek flows and he had ordered Kephart not to fish or otherwise trespass upon the estate. Kephart, in company with a youth, Newton Havenner, went to the creek fishing, and Kern promptly went down to drive them off. Just how the fight began seems a little vague. Kephart was struck over the head with a club and knocked down and before he could arise, it is alleged, he was cut several times with a knife. Following this Kephart drew a revolver and fired four shots at Kerns, only one of which took effect, the bullet striking the left breast a few inches above the heart and penetrating the lung, inflicting a serious wound. After emptying his revolver Kephart ran, and during his flight, the report states he received the gunshot wound in the hand, Kerns sending a load of birdshot after him—Loudoun Enterprise.

IGNORES GERMANY

London, Feb. 3.—The papal year book for 1919, which has just been issued in Rome, is particularly noteworthy for its suppression of the official names of dioceses hitherto included in the German and Austro-Hungarian empires, and substitution of purely geographical and regional designation.

Under "Austria," the only diocese shown is that of Vienna, while the diocese of Prague is included under "Bohemia." The dioceses of Strasbourg and Metz, formerly shown under "German empire," are now described under "Alsace" and "Lorraine" respectively. Germany, as a whole, is described as divided into "autonomous" regions of Aix, Baden, Bavaria, Prussia, etc.

GREECE'S PEACE CLAIMS

Paris, Feb. 3.—Greece's peace claims were taken up by the representatives of the big five powers today.

M. Venizelos, Greek premier, and M. Politis, the foreign minister, were invited to address the envoys, setting forth in detail the territorial claims in Thrace and southern Albania and in Smyrna.

President Wilson had a full program of activities today. In addition to attending the supreme interallied council at the foreign office he was publicly received on the floor of the hamber of Deputies and afterward presided at a full meeting of the committee that is framing the program for the league of nations.

Paris, Feb. 3.—When the President arrives in the United States, three weeks hence—he is scheduled to sail February 14—he expects sufficient progress to have been made for a comprehensive report to Congress. After that, important negotiations will be reported to the American legislative body as they transpire.

RITES FOR P. M. BRADSHAW

Last rites for Philip M. Bradshaw who died Friday, were held at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his late residence, 512 King street and largely attended. Members of the different branches of Odd Fellows and the Order of Fraternal Americans attended in a body. Services were conducted by Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Burial was in Bethel cemetery.

Among the floral offering was a handsome piece from the children at the Odd Fellows' Home, Lynchburg, Va., of which institution Mr. Bradshaw was a trustee.

Pallbearers were John G. Cockey, Robert H. Cox, Vance H. Peele, from the Odd Fellows, and Gilbert J. Cox, S. H. Lunt and T. Calvert Perry from the board of school trustees of which Mr. Bradshaw was chairman.

DEATH OF ROBERT GRIMES

Robert Grimes, thiryt-seven years old, unmarried, a son of Mrs. A. M. Grimes of 1827 Duke street, died at 11.30 o'clock yesterday morning at Georgetown University Hospital. The deceased had been ill about twelve days.

Mr. Grimes was a tailor and besides his mother is survived by two sisters and a brother, Mrs. J. M. Armstrong, this city; Mrs. M. M. Lollo Washington and William Grimes, of Washington.

His funeral will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from Wheatley's mortuary chapel and will be conducted by Rev. Edgar Carpenter rector of Grace P. E. Church.

GRAND THEATRE TOMORROW

William Desmond, who appears in the new Triangle Kay Bee drama, "The Last of the Ingrams," is rapidly fulfillling the confidence that Thomas H. Ince has reposed in him since Desmond attached his signature to an Ince contract about a year ago.

At first Desmond was cast only in serious roles, and many members of Ince's directing staff declared that it would be a mistake to test his versatility further.

But the director general had great faith in Desmond's ability to depict various emotions and insisted that his protege be given every opportunity. As a result Desmond is today one of the best all round actors shown on the Triangle program.

A woman had sinned and had struggled and then William Desmond "The Last of the Ingrams," is turned out of the homestead of his stern and grasping ancestors—turned out by the town. Shrieked who had bled this dreamer to his last penny. Jules Ingram, in the throes of despond and the red Demon finds, in the girl, his hope and the goal of his awakened desires. This is a story of flesh and blood and iron; of men and women and deeds.

FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET

Two Hundred Guests Present at Affair Given by International Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders and Helpers of America.

Two hundred persons Saturday attended the first annual banquet given in the Westminster building by the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Shipbuilders and Helpers of America in honor of the delegates of the Delaware River Shipbuilding Council.

William J. Reardon, president of Local No. 369, was toastmaster and introduced the speakers. Addresses were delivered by R. B. Wallace, plant manager of the Virginia Shipbuilding Company; F. J. Higgins, secretary of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation; Henry R. Murray, president of the Delaware Council, Philadelphia, and Edward Keenan, secretary of the Delaware Council, Philadelphia. Mr. Keenan, at the conclusion of his address presented for the council a handsome gold watch to H. L. Farrington, retiring president of the Delaware Council, and Mr. Farrington made a fitting response. A recitation was given by Mr. Reardon.

The banquet was served by a committee of women under the direction of Miss Cora Cochran. Among the invited guests were Harry B. Andrews and Frank Brown, superintendent and assistant superintendent, respectively, of the Virginia Shipbuilding plant.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

Clocks Throughout Country Will be Set Back One Hour March 30.

When Sunday, March 30, arrives, the clocks in this city and all parts of the country will be set forward one hour, in accordance with the daylight saving act, which was effective for the first time last year, and which continues in effect indefinitely, or until Congress otherwise provides. On Sunday, October 26, all the clocks will be set back one hour.

The impression exists in some quarters, it has been learned, that the daylight saving act was only for one year, and that Congress must act again if the measure is to be effective this year. That is wrong, however, The law says:

"That at 2 o'clock antemeridian of the last Sunday in March of each year the standard time shall be advanced one hour, and at 2 o'clock antemeridian of the last Sunday in October the standard time shall, by the retarding of one hour, be returned."

There was an agitation last fall to have Congress pass another law establishing the time under the daylight saving act as the standard time, and have it continue the year round. But the movement was given up.

Sunday morning, March 30, at 2 o'clock precisely, the clocks are all supposed to be moved forward. As a practical matter, however, most clocks will be set ahead earlier Saturday night, so that when their owners wake Sunday morning their time pieces will be right.

The daylight saving law gave much satisfaction during last year, since it enabled men and women who work to get out of their offices and away from their jobs while the sun was still shining. Unless the law is repealed, each year will find the clocks turned forward one hour the last Sunday in March.

VILLA EXECUTED GENERAL FOR FAILURE IN MISSION

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 3.—Jose Sigala, a general in Villa's command, was executed near La Mula Pass, thirty-five miles south of Presidio, Texas, last Tuesday for failure to fulfill his mission to the border to exchange stolen silver bullion for ammunition.

A message was received from the Mexican consulate at Presidio by the Mexican general consulate here confirming reports of the execution. The execution was carried out by Gen. Ildefonso Sanchez, under orders from Villa.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express to our relatives and friends our sincere thanks, and appreciation for their kindness and floral tributes extended to us at the death of our beloved little daughter, Alice Virginia Radcliffe.

By her Mother and Father.

FORREST A. CARTER WHO WAS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

by His Brother Henry A. Carter Last Thursday Night Died Today at the Alexandria Hospital.

Forrest A. Carter, twenty-four years old, who was accidentally shot last Thursday night by his brother, Henry A. Carter, died shortly before 1 o'clock this morning at the Alexandria Hospital.

The body was taken to Demaine's mortuary chapel and funeral services will be held at 8 o'clock tonight and the body will be shipped tomorrow morning to Gainesville, Prince William county, Va.

Henry A. Carter was on a visit to Forrest Carter at the time, they living next door to each other.

Both brothers engaged in a pistol drill and Henry Carter just before leaving replaced the cartridges in his pistol. Forrest dropped his pistol as Henry neared the door and Henry overlooking that he had replaced the cartridges in his pistol continued the drill and snapped his pistol. The ball entered the lung of his brother Forrest.

An investigation was made of the case in the police court the next day and Justice Thompson declared the shooting to have been purely accidental after hearing the evidence presented.

EX-KAISER'S FLUCTUATIONS

Kaiser Wilhelm had a birthday the other day, and though defeated and exiled, he received more bouquets and congratulations than President Wilson did on his, if we may judge from such accounts as have come to us. It is true that some of the messages sent him were not polite but even the European slingers of mud at the Kaiser were not nearly so much in evidence on that one day as the Senatorial rotten-eggers of the President are almost every day in the week. Which provokes the inquiry, is the Kaiser still as popular in Germany as the President is in the United States?

A dispatch from The Hague declares that the Kaiser has recently regained much of his former popularity. At several political meetings in Berlin lately he has been cheered. "Dr. Naub, speaking in the Circus Busch for the German National party, opened the meeting with a cheer for the ex-Kaiser, which was greeted with thundering applause, lasting several minutes, and also with cheers for Von Tirpitz and Ludendorff." It is noted also that "the Reichbote sent a loyalty address signed by thousands of people for the Ex-Kaiser's birthday. The German People's party also sent a telegram of congratulations and loyalty, and in the Prussian municipalities the school children had a holiday on the occasion of the birthday."—Baltimore Sun.

MRS. ROOSEVELT TO VISIT GRAVE OF SON

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Feb. 3.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, will sail for Europe on Wednesday, going on the French liner Lorraine. How long the widow of the former President will remain abroad is not known.

While in Europe, Mrs. Roosevelt will spend several weeks with her sister, Miss Emily Carew, who is doing war work in a hospital in Italy. She has not seen her sister in years.

Mrs. Roosevelt will also see her two sons, Lieut. Col. Theodore and Capt. Kermit, while in France. This part of the trip was contemplated by the colonel just before he died. Mrs. Roosevelt also expects to visit the grave of her youngest son, Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt, who was killed while in battle with a German plane.

OVERSEAS FLEET AT NORFOLK.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 3.—Their turrets bristling with guns that a few weeks ago defied the Germans, a fleet of ten superdreadnaughts, one dreadnaught and three predanaughts with a number of attendant vessels now ride at anchor in Hampton Roads awaiting their cruise to Guantanamo for winter maneuvers and target practice.

VIOLATIONS OF DRY LAW

It is often suggested that people who used liquor as a beverage before the state was declared dry drink as much as ever under present conditions. Arrests by the police of "drunks" are going on all the time, and on Monday mornings several of such delinquents generally forfeit their collateral by failing to appear in the Police Court.

Although the prohibition inspectors in conjunction with the city police resort to every method in attempts to apprehend persons who still sell liquor in Alexandria, it is seldom these defiers of law are made to face the bar. Those engaged in transporting or dispensing liquor study closely the parts they are to play, hence the mass of such law breakers go unpunished.

The police are satisfied liquor is sold in a number of places in Alexandria which are licensed for other branches of trade, while many are engaged in bootlegging.

Whisky is now selling at six dollars per quart in Alexandria, but this fact it not causing any diminution in its consumption.

The late President Lincoln said in his day that the world cannot be half slave and half free and this sentiment was repeated in 1917 by Woodrow Wilson, now filling the place once occupied by the war President, and Alexandria should be dry or wet. The number of drunken people seen in our city as well as others who dring ad libitum without showing the effects make a parody upon law and order.

GREAT BRITAIN'S ORDEAL

Conditions in England, Scotland and Ireland are causing the greatest anxiety in those countries. It is assumed that at least half a million men will have quit work before the close of the present week. Thousands of soldiers are engaged in the work of suppressing disorders, while in some places the workmen are defying the soldiers, and making veiled threats of Bolshevism.

Great Britain has just emerged from one of the greatest crises in her history. After four years and more of sanguinary war with a nation bent upon her destruction, the mother country has emerged triumphant, and it would seem that it should be a time of rejoicing not rioting. The son of the capitalist marched side by side with the offspring of the artisan in the defense of their country, and in many cases occupied the same grave. Now that carnage is over, many who remained at home, for one reason or another, are precipitating a tumult which is bringing distress everywhere.

A few years ago we could not have been made to believe that a time would come when machine guns would be planted in staid old Glasgow, Belfast and other places in the United Kingdom with capital and labor arrayed against each other.

Will such scenes be restricted to the old world? Are there not evidences in our own country which make it apparent that we are living in perilous times?

THE LESSON OF WAR

Another exchange says one of the most serious mistakes ever made by the Northern Democrats was their bitter opposition to the Lincoln Administration during the civil war, and the unsparing criticism they heaped upon every move made by the President during the war between the states. "Lincoln, to be sure, made many mistakes, but he had very unpromising material to work with, and there is no reason to suppose that any one else could have done better. The Democrats ignored his obvious patriotism, sincerity and honesty, and vented their displeasure upon the military blunders made and the doings of the Union armies, despite the fact that fully one half, if not more, of the soldiers were themselves Democrats. In 1863 this policy of bitter antagonism reached the climax.

"Secretary Seward was right. The Federalists killed themselves by their opposition to the war of 1812. By their fatuous and senseless antagonism to Lincoln the Democrats drove hundreds of thousands of their own voters into the Republican ranks and destroyed all chances of party sucess for many years.

Anw now the Republicans are following the same jackass tactics. By their unceasing criticism and fault-finding they are driving over to the Demoocracy the great bulk of the 4,000,000 young men called into the national service, and who properly felt that this ceaseless detraction is a reflection upon themselves. "No party can survive an opposition to a war" is as true in 1919 as it was in 1863. Let our Republican friends go on as they have begun. No Democrat familiar with American character and love of fair play can have any doubts as to the result in 1920 of the present campaign of villification, lying and abuse.

RODENT SAW HIS SHADOW

All weather prophets fail occasionally. Even the Government Weather Bureau has been known to make mistakes. For this reason most of us have not been disposed to remember the inaccuracies of that venerable prognosticator, the Ground Hog, or to treat with derision the prediction which he makes every year on the 2d of February. Possibly if we reviewed his vaticinations for the last 25 years we should find that he had frequently made grave miscalculations. But for all that many persons still cling with some interest, if not reverence, to the meteorological tradition he represents. Exact science and critical modernism cannot banish credulity or faith in the mysterious. Side by side with the college psychologist, who maps out your mind while you wait, marches. Professor Ground Hog, specilaist on the six weeks following February 2nd.

As a contemporary says, "perhaps there are more things in Professor Hog's philosophy than one yet dreamed of in the schools. At all events, he is one of the figures in weather wisdom with which we would not willingly part withal. Certainly he will continue to hold his peace until the intellectuals can beat him in his line of prophecy. His formula is very simple, and, according to yesterday's sunshine, it promises what few of us, except the coal men, want. Let us hope that this will prove one of the seasons in which he will have missed his guess."

WHY A. H. S. NEEDS A LABORATORY.

It is a self-evident fact that Alexandria High School should have a chemical laboratory. In the four years of high school sciences are taught and the pupils are required to take them in order to receive a diploma, and yet in view of this fact the school has no laboratory. Science cannot be taught without experiments, and experiments cannot be performed in the class room. What musical instructor would attempt to teach a child how to play a violin, without an instrument. O yes, we laugh at the idea but yet the two cases are exactly analogous.

The inconsnstency of one is certainly The inconsistency of one is certainly cannot be taught by rules and definitions, neither can science. Today in Alexandria High School at least twenty-five per cent of the pupils are preparing for colleges and universities, among these one is preparing for Annopolis, another for West Point. In the respective colleges these pupils will receive not one single credit for the science that they have taken in the Alexandria High School. Why. Simply because they are unable to show the necessary number of written experiments. This surely is not fair. The pupils of Alexandria High School, as citizens of one of the most progressive communities in Virginia, have the right to demand everything in reason that will promote education. I think it will not be necessary to demand at all. In fact the student body only asks that the matter be taken up by the School Board, and given its careful consideration.

250,000 WORKERS IDLE

Berlin, Feb. 3.—Two hundred and fifty thousand workers are now idle in Berlin and the suburbs.

The number of unemployed is increasing daily.

Industrial stagnation in Germany has increased to an alarming extent as the result of the coal famine and the strikes incited by Spartacans. The German government is taking measures to send the idle masses from the cities into the country, where employment can be found.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Burglars burst open the county jail at Portsmouth Saturday night and stole 150 quarts of liquor. How the burglars managed to back a wagon up to the building, cut a hole through the brick walls and then make away with the goods is a puzzle. The building contains not only the city and county jails, but police headquarters, and police court.

The largest dry dock in the United States, was opened at the Norfolk Navy Yard yesterday in the presence of several thousand people. The dock was completed several months ahead of time, thus earning a bonus of more than $200,000 for the contractors. Two smaller dry docks are now under construction alongside the large one and when completed, will be used for merchant marine, destroyers and minor naval craft.

CUT TO PIECES BY TRAIN

Alien Killed at Cornwells Had $1100 in a Bank

Bristol, Pa., Feb. 3.—An alien in whose pocket was found a card bearing the name of Gullerno Rainlico, was cut to pieces under the wheels of an express train at the Cornwells station Friday morning. The man bought a ticket at the station, which is on the west side of the track, and started across to the eastbound platform, just as a New York express approached. It was found that he had a bank account of $1100 at a New York bank, although he had only a few cents in his clothes.

A body, believed to be that of Thomas McCarthy, of Amatol, N. J., was found by a trackwalker this morning on the Pennsylvania tracks at B U tower, just above Bristol station. The body was horribly mangled and the only clew to identification was a registration card.

KILLS WIFE AND HIMSELF

Domestic Difficulties Lead to Double Crime at Ehrenfeld.

Johnstown, Pa., Feb. 3.—Friday afternoon at Ehrenfeld, Joseph Finan shot and killed his wife and then turned the revolver upon himself with fatal results. The Finans moved from South Fork to Ehrenfeld three weeks ago, at which time Mrs. Finan left their two children with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Winters, at South Fork. This afternoon Mrs. Finan purchased a basket of groceries to take to her parents and was awaiting the Pennsylvania train at the Ehrenfeld station when Finan appeared and without any warning shot her through the head and then shot himself dead. There had been trouble in the Finan home for some time and Mrs. Finan has caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of her husband on a charge of desertion and non support. Finan was 29 years old and his wife was 26.

TRAIN PASSES OVER BABY

Youngster Falls Between Rails and Escapes Without Injury

Ellendale, Del., Feb. 3.—Caught on the railroad track with a fast freight approaching, the 2-year-old baby of William Masen had a miraculous escape when it fell down, the engine and whole train passing over it without touching it. The child strayed away from the farmhouse and the mother never missd i tuntil th frightaoien never missed it until the freight was almost on it.

The mother and the engineer of the train saw the child about the same time, but there was no chance to stop the speeding engine. In fright the child fell over, an dafter the train had passed the little fellow climbed up before its astonished mother.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS

No Trace of Whereabouts of Dr. Wilmer Amos Hadley as Yet

Richmond, Feb. 3.—No new developments have occurred during the last twenty-four hours which might lead to the identity of the person who is responsible for the death of Mrs. Wilmer Amos Hadley, whose body was found floating in the James River several miles west of the city several weeks ago. Neither has any trace as to the whereabouts of Dr. Wilmer Amos Hadley, husband of the dead woman, who is believed to be implicated in the death of his wife, been unearthed.

Sheriff W. Webb Sydnor, of Henrico county, announced last night that he himself would be responsible for the payment of $300 to the person who captured Dr. Hadley. This amount it is understood, will be supplemented by the state. Officials of Henrico county called upon Governor Davis yesterday and conferred with Colonel Hodges, his secretary, and were encouraged as a result of the visit. The governor was out of town.

That the coroner's inquest, which will determine the manner in which the woman met death, will not be conducted for some time was reported last night. Officials of Henrico county are anxious that Hadley be captured before the inquest is held. This, however, may be impossible, and it is probable that the inquest may have to be held without the physician being present. In event he is apprehended before the inquest is held, he will be forced to view the body of the woman.

BERLIN NEAR NEW REVOLT

City in Grip of Greatest Unemployment Problem in its History

Amsterdam, Feb. 3.—"Calm before the storm," is the keynote of all dispatches from Berlin describing the situation there. The atmosphere is charged with ominous expectations and an explosion may come momentarily.

In Northern Germany, particularly in ports such as Hamburg, Bremen and Wilhelmshaven the Spartacans still appear to have the upper hand. In Wilhelmshaven a state of war was proclaimed Wednesday and the situation there has been obscure since.

Berlin is in the grip of the greatest unemployment crisis in its history. The government is threatening to put into effect a system of compulsory employment, but the huge army of jobless men and women, now estimated at 150,000, is taking a defiant attitude. Most of the city's industries and stores are tied up by strikes.

The fuel famine is assuming more and more serious proportions and the coal miners show no signs of giving in.

Similar conditions obtain throughout Austria.

Damage to property by the Spartacan revolt will amout to $10,000,000, it was estimated here today.

MONARCHY IN PORTUGAL

Royalists Set up National Government and Await Former King Manuel

London, February 3.—With Monarchist victories confirmed a national Government has been constituted in Portugal, with Senhor Conceiro as Premier and Minister of War, according to a dispatch received from Oporto

The message declares the Monarchists control a large part of Portugal and are awaiting the arrival of former King Manuel.

STRIKE IN GREAT BRITAIN

Government Troops Patroling Storm Centres—Terrorists' Announcement

London, Feb. 3.—With a nation wide strike still spreading and armed government troops patrolling the riotous hotbeds, Britain looks with grave alarm to storm signals flaring up in various parts of the United Kingdom. Most threatening of them is the terrorist strikers' announcement that they will resist "the government armed tyranny which failed to suppress justice in other countries and will fail in England."

Ten thousand government troops have restored order in Glasgow. Success in this was due to their plentiful supply of machine guns.

The government is prepared to send additional troops into Glasgow if the strikers attempt to carry out their threat of armed resistance.

Reports from Dublin voice fear that the whole of Ireland may become involved in the labor disputes.

Two hundred thousand London engineers threaten to strike Thursday for a 40 hour week.

Thousands of railway clerks show signs of joining the strikers.

London, Feb. 3.—The workers on five London subway systems are on strike. They threaten to tie up all electric services also if troops are set to interfere with their walkout.

CONFESSES TO STARTING FIRE

Business Man, Seeking Only His Own Insurance, Whipped up Courage With Quart of Whisky

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 3.—Clarence Stekroth, a Port Carbon business man has confessed to Alderman A. L. Eckert that he started the fire in port Carbon, on January 11, which for a time threatened to wipe out the entire town, and was only controlled with the aid of numerous fire companies from other towns. The total loss was $75,000, the business district of the town being partially wiped out.

Stekroth says he started the fire to get his own insurance and had no intention of damaging other property. He was sent to jail to await sentence by Court. Stekroth says he drank a quart of whisky and six bottles of beer to get inspiration for the deed.

PLAN A HUGE SILK STRIKE

Union Leader Says 30,000 Workers Will Walk Out on Monday

Paterson, N. J., Feb. 3.—Thirty thousand silk workers here will go on strike today if the manufacturers resist their employees' decision to enforce an eight hour day, Louis Magnet, local chairman of the United Textile Workers of America, declared today. The plan, he said, is for the workers to report at the mills at 8 A. M., Monday, with 5 P. M., fixed as quitting time. There were reports, he stated, that the factory owners, who insist on maintenance of the nine hour day, would lock the mill doors after 7 A. M. If this occurred, he added, the men would strike.

Manufacturers' and employees' representatives, who conferred last night, agreed to submit the dispute to the National War Labor Board, but the men voted down the employers' proposal for continuance of the nine hour day pending a decision.

YOUTHFUL BANDIT SHOT

Lad of 18 Admits Nearly Killing Fur Dealer And Robbing Others, Including Two Women

Washington, Pa., Feb. 3.—After being shot by a constable he tried to elude, Joseph Snyder, aged 18, when brought to a hospital here confessed to shooting Thomas D. Cummins, a fur dealer, and robbing him of $175, on December 21; also to having held up Mrs. James Sweeney at New Eagle and taking $80 and $100 worth of jewelry; of taking $1.75 at the point of a gun from Mrs. James Cowan, and of holding up Edward Barry, a shoemaker, who had nothing of value.

Snyder had been suspected of the Cummins shooting, and had been trailed by Constable W. C. Gibson, of New Eagle, who came upon Snyder a few moments after he had held up Mrs. Cowan, and told him to stop. Snyder immediately ran and was escaping when Gibson winged him. When brought here Snyder said he had lured Cummins to a lonely spot by telling him he had some skunk furs, and then shot the fur dealer as he was climbing a fence. Cummins' condition was critical for several weeks, but he is now recovering.

CARRY YOUR OWN BAR

Secret Compartment Half Pint Wide With Ten-Quart Side

New York, Feb. 3—Prohibition models are among the up-to-next-July attractions of the New York auto show at Madison Square Garden and the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory.

Of course, the dry models are not so labeled. But when you get confidential with the salesman just mention how it's too bad something cannot be done about this July 1 business, and, if you are examining one of the more expensive cars, you may be shown something that might mitigate the prospective general aridity a little There is a secret compartment, for instance, just a half pint wide and ten quarts long.

Anyone who could suspect the existence of this compartment before the owner tells him about it wouldn't be in the detective business. He'd be mind-reading in a diplomatic corps.

STAY IN THE AIR FOR DAYS

Eight Navy Men Take a Dirigible Up For an Endurance Test

Cape May, N. J., Feb. 3,—The big 300-foot dirigible balloon C-3, of the submarine patrol station at Sewells Point, manned by 8 men, with supplies and food for 120 hours, started out Thursday morning for an endurance test, and has been the object of much interest, particularly throughout last night and this evening. In the test the balloon has not gone more than 30 miles from the Cape May station, and a great deal of the time today was hovering over the town so that nurses and soldiers from the army hospital and the sailors of the Naval Reserve Force have been signaling to the men in the basket under the balloon and received return signals.

In the heavy wind of the early evening the balloon rolled in the air more than a vessel does in a sea during a heavy storm, but the test will not end until Tuesday morning. The men, it is said, are to receive $8,000 each if they stay up until the time set. The men in the balloon are Ensign Houghton, commander; Gunner Anthony, Ensign Tyndall, Lieutenant Harris Ensign Baugh, two machinists and a radio operator.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Fatalities caused by automobile accidents in 1918 in New York State show 1,189 persons were killed. Of these, 743 were killed in New York City. The number of deaths in 1917 was 837.

Ex-Emperor Charles, according to Prague Tageblatt, is contemplating a divorce action against former Empress Zita. An alleged intrigue on the part of the ex-empress in connection with the famous peace letter to Prince Sixtus will be the basis of his action, the paper asserts.

A huge barrel arrived in Detriot several days ago and the railway workers bored a hole in it and pure alcohol poured forth. Joyfully they drained the barrel and rushed the alcohol home where it was turned into the stuff with a kick and consumed yesterday. The barrel was broken open and out rolled two large human skeletons. The barrel had been shipped to a medical board. And now the raiders want to know what effect alcohol, after being used as embalming fluid for human skeletons, will have on the human system.

Resolutions calling upon Congress to grant a $360 increase in wages to every government employe were adopted yesterday afternoon at a mass meeting of more than 3,000 workers at the Liberty Hut, Washington. This action was taken following addresses by Representative Edward E. Keating, of Colorado; Secretary Frank Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor; Representative Jeanette Rankin, of Montana; Luther C. Steward, president of the National Federation of Federal Employes' Unions; George W. Batson, president of the War Risk branch of the Federal Employes' Union, No. 2, and Dr. W. Carson Ryan, president of Local No. 2.

Cannibalism, according to Fred Fredette, Canadian army deserter, kept six survivors of the wrecked Dumaru alive during twenty four days of drifting in a lifeboat. Fredette said the Dumaru was abandoned after it was struck by lightning October 16. In eleven days sixteen in his boat perished. Then, according to the deserter, the eight remaining agreed that the bodies of the next to die should be used for food. Accordingly, he said, a tin receptacle was prepared, and when the chief engineer and a deck boy died their flesh was boiled in salt water and eaten. The six, including Fredette, after drifting 1,500 miles, landed in the Philippines.

KILLS MAN IN STORE

Man Enters, Screams, Fires Revolver and Runs.

Philadelphia, Feb. 3.—Elmos Salim, 28 years old, of Coatesville, was shot and killed Friday in a fruit store at No. 716 Vine street, when a man entered the place and announced that he was "going to kill somebody."

The man accused of the shooting and who was caught at Eleventh and Spring Garden streets after a chase by Policemen Barron and Murray, is Fazio Stano, 28 years old, also of Coatesville.

According to the police, there were three men in the store of Sefiden Yiener when Stano entered. Bech Stano, No. 443 North Eleventh street was seated at a table talking to Salim and the proprietor. Stano drew an automatic pistol from his pocket and said he was going to shoot somebody. He fired a shot which struck Salim in the head and he died on the way to the Hahnemann Hospital. He fired two other shots at the other men who were crouched behind the table, but both shots went wild.

He then fled from the store and the police, hearing the shots and seeing the man running, pursued and caught him. It is thought that the men had a disagreement in a business deal. Yiener and Bech Stano were also arrested as material witnesses.

Insure the home NOW—don't delay another day. This is the season in which most fires occur. Insuring through this agency means ABSOLUTE PROTECTION at regular rates.
